

Treating Holy Items with Respect

Jewish tradition treats holy items with great respect. Items like a tallit, tefillin, a Bible, a prayerbook, a lulav and etrog, and a shofar are such items. They should not be put on the ground or taken into the bathroom, and one should kiss such items if they do accidentally touch the floor.